Former Equals Amateur Record and Latter Within a Stroke—Dark Horse Sherman Again to the Front-Proal, Bowers and Gee Also in the First Flight.

Brilliant scoring by the first half dozen made a memorable finish in the qualifying round of the Apawamis Golf Club tournament yesterday, in which eighty-five returned cards. In the morning Jerome D. Travers had a clear lead of five strokes through a stroke equaled the amateur record. 73, which equaled the amateur record set at the tournament of two years ago by Findlay Douglas and was within two strokes of Willie Anderson's professional record, made in May. Travers's card was:

Pierre A. Proal was second in the morning, with 78. It was a coincidence that both Travers and Proal drove the 217 yard six-teenth green and were successful in holing

A drive out of bounds cost Travers an 8 on the ninth then, and he required 4 for the six-teenth. Travers finished in 81, which won the low score medal. Seely, the Metropolitan Golf Association champion, made the round with Travers. In the morning Seely did $3, while a brilliant 74 was his afternoon quota. This brought Seely next to the medalist, ith 157. Thomas M. Sherman, the Hamilton College boy who won at Deal as a dark herse last August, was third with 162. His driving was of the phenomenal order, and, as he had caught the knack of the fast greens in the afternoon, he closed his day with a 76. The Harvard senior, Proal, was fourth at the finish, with 165, the first half dozen being closed at 167 by H. J. Gee of Princeton and Spotswood D. Bowers.

Baker vs. Gwyer, the Rev. J. E. Adams vs. Bowers, Travers vs. Gee, T. M. Sherman vs. Seely; R. D. Lapham vs. first of tie; Truesdale vs. Thurston. The annual tournament of the Stockbridge Golf Club is announced for Sept. 5, 6, 7 and 8.

HYANNIS, Mass., July 6.—Walter J. Travis played some wonderful golf in the second round of the Great Island club tournament here this afternoon. His opponent was Ralph Cracknell of Oakley, who was disposed of to the tune of 8 up and 7 to play. The Garden City man played out the eighteen holes and made them in 89, breaking the record for the course. His approaching and putting were deadly. He holed out one 50 yard approach shot and made a number of 10 yard puts. He did not miss a single put on all the eighteen greens.

In the second round, in addition to Travis's victory. Stiles defeated Decamp, 1 up; Stevenson defeated Wiley, 2 up; A. L. White beat Rust, 4 and 2: Lockwood defeated Crocker, 3 and 6: Davis beat Selfridge, 7 and 6, and Vennerbeck beat Small, 2 and 1.

For the Thames Challenge cup the Thames beat the Kingston Rowing Club by one length in 7 minutes 28 seconds.

For the Stewards Challenge cup the Lenders rowed over For the Stewards Unamenge cup the Sanders rowed over.

The final for the Wyfold Challenge cup was won by the London Rowing Club, beating the Reading Rowing Club.

For the Ladies' Challenge Plate Eton College beat Christ's College, Cambridge, by one length in 7 minutes 12 seconds.

Favorites Win at Dover Harness Races Dovgr. N. H., July 5.—The meeting at Granite State Park closed to day. In each of the three events the talent picked the winner. Baltimore horses won the 2:17 and 2:18 classes. Paul Kruger was heavily backed for the latter to the final heat. In the third Kruger and Sonata broke at the last turn and ran to the wire.

Time—2:18%, 2:189, 2:189, 2:189, 2:189, 2:189, 2:181, 2:18

Mawr Polo Club's four defeated the Rockaway Hunting Club team in the match for Hunting Club's cups. Foxhall P. Keene worked like a demon and scored a majority of Rockaway's goals.

Bryn Mawr received 8 goals handicap, and to the surprise of the crowd of society folk present the Quaker City players assumed the aggressive from the outset and forced the play. The final score stood: Rockaway Hunting Club, 10 goals; Bryn Mawr Polo Club, 13% goals.

A. Maynard Lyon Disposes of the Business Building at the Southeast Corner of News Made Up of Small Deals. Dealing in flats and tenements continued yesterday to be the only activity of any consequence in the brokerage branch of the market. It was widely distributed and included a substantial amount of investment buying. A considerable proportion of the sales affected the East Side north of Eightieth street. Several private houses also changed ownership. Only one transaction was noted outside of the residence districts. It involved a mercantile building of antiquated type at Liberty and Church streets. Business in the auction room was practically at a standstill.

Private Sales. LIBERTY STREET.—A. Maynard Lyon has sold No. 98 Liberty street, southeast corner of Church street, a five story business building, on plot 26.2x53.11. The property is assessed at $113,000.

minster Team in Two Stages. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. BISLEY, England, July 6.—The teams of the Seventh Regiment, N. G. N. Y., and the Queen's Westminster Volunteers began to-day their contest for the silver challenge shield offered by Col. Sir Howard Vincent, commander of the Westminsters.

The day was perfect and there was a good light for shooting. There was no mirage, but a shifty wind made accuracy difficult. The visitors to the ranges included Major John H. Beacom, the American Military Attaché in London, and Capt. Duval of the Seventh.

The officials are Lord Cheylesmore, referee

Gen. Sir Alfred Turner, umpire for the West-minsters, and Major Tursaday, umpire for The Americans find the shooting at Bisley much easier than at Creedmoor. Col. Vincent sent the following message to Capt. McLean before the shooting began "Win or lose, we love our sporting brothers. mass elighty-fourth street, two three story and basement brownstone front dwellings, on plot 40x102.2.

1018T STREET.—Huberth & Gabel have sold for Goldenberg & Cohen the six story, new law tenement at No. 322 and 324 East 101st street, on plot 38.10x100.11, to Bernard King.

CHERRY STREET.—Jesse J. Goldburg has sold to Louis Kohn the five story tenement at No. 124 Cherry street, on lot 25x105.3x 26x104.2. D. Seglin was the broker.

DOWNING STREET.—Jesse J. Goldburg has bought No. 33 Downing street, northeast corner of Bedford street, old building, on lot 25x70.

126TH STREET.—Simon & Wallach here.

E. Crall, 69: Lieut. Orrin M. Beach, 64: Capt. William J. Underwood,65: Private Alexander Stevens, 71. As the two last named are reserves, they do not count. The total was 392.

The scores of the Westminsters were: Tyrrel, 69: Hall, 60: Goble, 62: Shepperd, 60: Fulton, Sr., 68: Fulton, Jr., 68: Mansfield, 68: Bacchus, 69. The last named two do not count. Total, 387.

The Americans lead 5 points on the day's shooting, the total score being 761 to 786.

In the second stage, 600 yards, the scores were: Short, 68: Suydam, 37: McAlpin, 63: Meyer, 56: Crall, 65: Beach, 60: Underwood, 61: Stevens, 59.

The Westminsters' score was: Tyrrel, 61: Hall, 64: Goble, 61: Shepperd, 58: Fulton, Sr., 63: Fulton, Jr., 62: Mansfield, 66; Bacchus, 71. The totals were equal, 369.

The Englishmen finished firing several shots before the Americans, who had tied the Westminsters, with Crall and Beach, who had been scoring bullseyes steadily, with one shot each to shoot. There was considerable tension until both had fired. Crall scored two and Beach three. Almost a shout arose from the spectators. Probably the marksmen heard the remarks: "Now they are a tie. These two shots will decide America's lead," and these may have put them off."

they are a tie. These two shots will decide America's lead," and these may have put them off."

Col. Vincent perambulated the firing line, enthusiastically commenting upon the amicability of the proceedings, which seemed to appeal to him more than the actual scoring. Lord Cheylesmere, president of the National Rifle Association, and Col. Vincent acted as hosts in entertaining all the guests.

Over the pavillon of the Americans flew the Stars and Stripes and the flag of the Seventh Regiment, which fell overboard while the team was transferring to the tender at Southampton, but which was subsequently recovered through the efforts of the port authorities. Mr. Tyrrell, the veteran marksman, described to-day's wind as having a fishtail front varying from two to three points to the right and left. Col. Thurston, New York's inspector of small arms, watched the shooting critically. He expressed the opinion hat under the circumstances the best six shots had been selected.

The shooting done by Stevens caused lively regret among Americans, especially among the women, that he is not included in the team. But the good scores of the reserved men were doubtless due to the absence of a feeling of responsibility on the part of the men. This is demonstrated by the fact that they all finished three shots ahead of the regular competitors. The Americans lead ten points midway in the firing, but the efforts of the two Fultons improved matters for the Englishmen toward the finish. The latter now explain that the Americans lead is due to their peephole system of sighting apparatus, which is superior to the English.

A. A. U. to Investigate Charges Against

July 4 competed in Boston. The men have come under suspicion because of these races and their amateur standing is to be investigated. The chief thing which led to the charges against the men was the fact that although the men were entered and had agreed to run at the games in Celtic Park July 4 they competed in Boston.

The exact text of the announcement of suspension is: "Suspicious circumstances, which in the judgment of John Steil, chairman of the registration committee, are sufficient to make the amateur status of Messrs. Hynes and Joyce a matter of reasonable doubt, having been brought to the attention of the committee, Mr. Stell announces the suspension of the two athletes pending an investigation. One of the charges is that a manager of one of them applied to men handling a set of athletic games for a sum of money in case they competed. Another charge is that they agreed to appear at certain games in the Metropolitan Association and permitted it to be so announced and competed in Boston instead.

James E. Sullivan not so long ago declared against the running of match races. The absence of Chairman Steil in St. Louis prevented action against Joyce and Hynes being takes egriler.
